Parenting Tip:

Family creates the foundation on which children will build the rest of their lives. Parents are both leaders and models, so children will learn fundamental skills, including relationship skills, from their families. Parents must reflect on whether the lessons they are modelling for their children are ones that will serve them well in their adult lives. Important to parent's role is building within their children a foundation of faith by engaging in prayer, attending Mass, reading the Bible as a family and taking part in acts of service. This development of faith will help guide children's actions as they become more independent. It will also ensure they understand that God is always with them.

Pastor's Reflection

As we move through the 14th to the 17th Sundays in Ordinary Time, the Gospel invites us into the quiet, steady work of discipleship. Jesus calls us to rest in Him when we are burdened, to welcome the seed of God's Word with open hearts, to be patient with the wheat and the weeds in our lives, and to recognize the hidden treasures of God's Kingdom in our every-day communities.

As I begin my ministry as pastor of St. Alphonsus (Wooler), Holy Angels (Brighton), and St. Jerome (Warkworth), I am grateful for the faith, generosity, and history that already live so deeply in these parishes. I look forward to walking with you as we continue to grow in Christ together.

I also want to express sincere thanks to all the priests who have served these communities over the years. We remember with gratitude Fr. Collins, who served faithfully until his passing. We thank Fr. Cyprian for his steady leadership during the transition before my appointment. And we offer prayers for our bishop as he begins his new ministry as Bishop of London.

May these weeks of Ordinary Time remind us that God works quietly and faithfully in our midst. May we continue to discover the treasures He has placed among us. Amen

Fr Chuka

Liturgy notes - how important is the liturgy?: All these details of the Mass we have been looking at – signs, words, gestures, silences – are they really that important? Opinions are fine, but what does the Church solemnly teach about the importance of the sacred liturgy? The best official source is the "Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy", the first major document of the Second Vatican Council. The council documents are the most important source of Church teaching for modern times. There is much food for thought in this teaching:

"In the liturgy the sanctification of the man is signified by signs perceptible to the senses, and is effected in a way which corresponds with each of these signs; in the liturgy the whole public worship is performed by the Mystical Body of Jesus Christ, that is, by the Head and His members. From this it follows that every liturgical celebration, because it is an action of Christ the priest and of His Body which is the Church, is a sacred action surpassing all others; no other action of the Church can equal its efficacy by the same title and to the same degree."

What we are here to do on Sunday is, according to the teaching of the Church, "a sacred action surpassing all others". God is doing something astonishing for us as we worship, and what God is doing is "signified by signs perceptible to the senses." In our worship, God is reaching us on all levels of our being: body, mind, and soul. Therefore we attend with wonder to all details great and small of our sacred encounter with God in the liturgy, for "no other action of the Church can equal its efficacy." As a child wonders at the beauty of marvellous things, let us open our eyes in wonder to the beauty of our encounter with God together at every holy Mass. (©Padre Piccolo)
